MOVING PICTURE FEATURES

This promises to be a notable week at the Temple. There is a feature every day but Friday, with such stars as Maurice and Walton, House Peters, Theodore Roberts, Dorothy Gish, Owen Moore and Marie Doro.

Saturday was a rare day. Douglas Fairbanks appeared here in "His Picture in the Papers." Fairbanks is a breezy person, who does not depend on a make-up or the slap stick for his fun. "His Picture in the Papers" is a good comedy, and good comedies on the screen are few and far between. Here's hoping that Douglass will be here again soon!

Today, Maurice and Walton, the famous international dancers, most popular of the cabaret entertainers of New York, will be seen here in "The Quest of Life." It is a picture of dancing. Do not expect anything else. But the dancing is marvelous, and well worth looking at. To be able to see such artists as these for 10 cents is a remarkable thing in itself.

Tomorrow House Peters will be seen in "The Rail Rider," a World feature. Peters was formerly with the Paramount players. He was last seen here in a Lasky feature last winter.

CHRONIC DYSENTERY

"An old gentleman of this town who was almost at the point of death with chronic dysentery some time ago and had given up all hope of recovery was induced to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. One dose stopped the discharge, and after taking a few more doses he was completely cured," writes J. L. Baer, West Manchester, Pa. "Many residents of Baer's station can testify to the truth of the above and were aware of the old gentleman's condition." Obtainable everywhere. Adv.
